Modern Day Pharisee

Many do not realize that I did not come to start a “religion”, like the Pharisees had when I was on the earth. Pharisee-ism is extant in the world today, but it will be stamped out for good. There are traces of this in all my children, and I am rooting it out so that nothing is left, but grace, unmerited pardon.

“How can I do this?” you may ask. A simple rule of thumb is to ask about your motives in a given situation. Are you grace oriented or judgmental? Pharisees judge and feel superior. They are harsh in their punishments. They say and do not do. They are hasty in their conclusions. They are without mercy!

In the final analysis judgment will fall on those who are not caring for their fellowman. They care only for themselves and are not concerned about others. Selfishness and greed ooze out of their pores. They have a “holier than thou attitude.” “Me first” is their motto.

You get the idea. My children are to be compassionate and forgiving. They should pray for someone instead of condemning. All humanity needs a Savior which is Jesus Christ, the Son of the ever living Father of all mankind.
