

A Greater Revelation of the Cross and Kingdom

The Lord spoke this prophetic word to me recently as a word in due season for the Body of Christ. As we receive this Word of the Lord by faith in this season, we will also surely receive all that he promises us. Glory to our King!

*God Bless,

“In this hour I am giving my people a greater revelation of the Cross says the Lord. There are greater depths to go on to and greater blessings to receive. So far the modern day Church has only scratched the surface of what I have paid for through the atonement. As greater revelation comes about the Cross-, there will also be a greater release of my power and glory in the earth. Did I not say that these signs shall follow them that believe? The signs, wonders and miracles of God are released through the preaching of this good news of the gospel. There is great power in preaching “Jesus Christ and him crucified.” No one can add to or take away from the perfect work of the Cross. Yet that is what many have done.

Some have added works of the law or the traditions of men therefore nullifying the effective power of the Cross-in the lives of those that have become weighed down with these burdensome yokes. Some have taken away by teaching others that once they are saved they are always saved no matter what kind of life that they live. Anyone that wants to come after me must first deny self and pick up their cross and follow me. This is the paradox of the Cross-. One side is joy and the other side is suffering. Some in the body of Christ understand this because they are living the reality of both sides. Others have not yet experienced a greater fullness of the Cross-though because they are only living one side.

Yes, there is joy in receiving the good things of the gospel but some only want the joy in their lives. Many shrink back from persecution because they are unwilling to suffer for my name’s sake. He that will seek to save his life will lose it but he who is willing to lose his life for my namesake will find it. Do not be ashamed of me or my gospel. Until you are living both sides of the Cross you are not fully embracing all of it. When you embrace all of me and my sacrifice, the power of the Cross-will not only be released in your life, but also into the lives of others that I send you to.

As the Church receives this greater revelation of the Cross-in this hour, knowledge of the Kingdom of God shall increase and flow as well. Many shall arise from their sleep and complacency to walk in Kingdom power and authority in these last days.

God will be greatly glorified in the earth and many will enter through the doors of the Kingdom as a result. Time is short and we must be about our Father's business. Prepare the way before me. Get ready for my return. I will supernaturally help you to redeem any time that has been lost or perceived as lost. Behold I come quickly!"
