The Sexiest Man Alive

We have in America, a man each year voted "The Sexiest Man alive." It is usually a man voted for on the screen with a wide appeal of popularity and good looks. However what constitutes this in a man, simply that he is a good actor and performs well as a sexual being? What about his integrity, his character and his fidelity? Has this nation become a sex crazed society, and where is it leading? Based on good looks and "charm" we have a long string of men that are voted for in the United States that are using the wrong criteria.

I know a man that values his family, and loves providing for them. His wife is an equal to him and he sings her praises. He instills morals and values to his son and daughter. When financial reverses come his way, he does not panic, but uses his talents to pursue other avenues to make money. He hunts, fishes, and brings home meat so that his freezer is full. He buys used trucks and repairs them for resale to provide for his family. He and his wife plant a garden for healthy vegetables. He loves his wife deeply and does not cheat on her with other women. Does he make mistakes? Is he perfect? No, but he is unnoticed in this world and I want him to be praised and taken into account for all he does day in and day out. His good looks and masculinity is an added plus.

He is a man who believes in his Father in heaven and has a close intimate relationship with him, he prays and reads the bible and is strengthened each day by this connection to Jesus Christ. He is an "unsung Hero" and I cast my vote for him and countless other men in our nation, that just want to do what is right, love their families, God, and country. Read Psalm 112 in the King James Version. He is this man.

When will we have a category in this country for the "Man with the Most Integrity" based on something other than vanity and pride? I for one, cast my vote for him!
